The teaching programmes of the one-to-one courses are tailor-made to meet specific needs. The methods and goals of each course are coordinated with the teacher and with the teaching management.

Groups are formed after an assessment of the participants' linguistic level. The teacher can thereby set up a suitable training programme, rich in goals and objectives to be achieved.

Quotes

Learning foreign languages has never been so easy!

Language Consultants pride themselves on the high quality of its foreign language teaching, the wide range of the training it provides, in the school and in the workplace, and for its specialized linguistic services.

Language Consultants organize courses for students of all ages, in groups and one-to-one, in standard and specialized language (Business, Marketing, Finance) and as preparation for international certificates (Cambridge, ESOL, Trinity, TOEIC, PTE General and Young Learners and LCCI).

We are also an authorized Trinity exam centre 62630 – a great convenience!

Conversations on the phone, company presentations and foreign language texts will be a problem no longer! As always, Language Consultants are at the service of Italian medium-small enterprises, contributing to their success with its courses of specialized linguistic training and customized workshops, in groups and one-to-one, created for the specific needs of those who work.

And to help younger pupils to learn the foreign language as naturally as possible, Language Consultants have created the innovative Method for Young Learners, extending over courses subdivided by age-group and level. Language Consultants also collaborate with public schools through teaching programmes and consultancy projects and maintains its support for children and young people even during the summer break with its Summer School, a summer camp where languages are learnt with the help of entertaining recreational and creative activities.

of life.”

– Federico Fellini

The Language Consultants Method

Emotive intelligence stimulates better learning.

The innovatory teaching methodology of the Language Consultants is based on the principle of enjoying learning. A positive, relaxed atmosphere and mutual teacher-pupil trust are the basis of the educational theory adopted by the Language Consultants. We start from the presumption that each person is unique and reveals different gifts and skills.

The synergy between memory and emotive intelligence, in fact, is the principle underlying the Language Consultants “learner-centred approach”, a programme where personal experience enriches enjoyment and motivation to study.

Enjoying learning means better learning!

Taking as their starting-point the potentials of the single course-members, the teachers take stock, from the first lessons, of the student’s approach to learning.

They then personalize the teaching programme and develop a specific learning agenda for each student.

The lessons are subdivided into content-based language modules which enable consolidation of pupils’ knowledge of syntax and vocabulary. But the Language Consultants method allows each individual to express what they have learnt with awareness, in a process of continual improvement of expectations, personal motivations and ability to work in a group.

For younger pupils, Language Consultants envisage the use of teaching strategies stimulating logical-mathematical, linguistic-verbal, visual, spatial, musical and relational intelligence. Even the youngest students strengthen their verbal memory and acquire fluency of oral expression through use of the abilities most congenial to each of them.

Our specialized courses are intensive training programmes created for those who already have a good knowledge of the language and wish to examine specific themes in order to handle “social” situations such as business discussions, meetings, negotiations with foreign customers, telephone conversations, e-mails, company presentations and to speak effectively and confidently in public.

Language Consultants intensive workshops have more specific goals and are functional to the particular work situation. Each workshop is therefore tailor-made in collaboration with the company’s Human Resources Manager.

Language Consultants Summer School is a fun-filled summer camp held entirely in the English language and open to children and young people aged 6 to 14 right through the summer period. It takes place in public or private structures, backed by native speaker activity leaders and under the guidance of educational coordinators.

The days are dedicated to art, music, theatre, geography, history, games and sports, all in English and in the style of Language Consultants Summer School, where the language isn't studied but is lived day by day, in everything you do and in all the emotions arising from it.

The goal is to encourage the learning of English through creative experiences that enable those taking part to use structures and vocabulary in a natural manner. By playing in groups the children interact and it is this interaction that helps to develop their linguistic and communicative skills.

The children are divided into small groups for the games and creative activities and are involved, in various roles, in the preparation of a play in English, to be given at the end of the week. They will therefore be actors, scriptwriters, directors, costume designers, set designers and so on. Parents, brothers, sisters and grandparents are invited to attend the production to see with their own eyes the surprising results of a week that has been intense but entertaining.

Have fun learning English even during the summer period School
